

Assignment 5

The chosen application is Booking.com . As we know Booking.com is a hotel or apartment rental service. There are Users and among them they can be either host or customer or both The Hosts are those who put up their houses for rent and Customers rent those places. They can also give feedback for any kind of issue. The customers are able to rate hosts as well as the hosts are allowed to rate their customers. Furthermore the customer can review the house which is rented by them

I have included 9 tables in this data model and these are pretty self explanatory from the diagram:

I have generated the data using <https://www.mockaroo.com/>